PASTOR'S CORNER

“Peter and his companions had been overcome by sleep, but, becoming fully awake, they saw his glory and the two men standing with him. As they were about to part from him, Peter said to Jesus, “Master, it is good that we are here; let us make three tents, one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.” But he did not know what he was saying. Luke 9: 32-33

The apostle Peter is often characterized as impulsive. He leaps before he looks. In the gospels, he jumps out of boats in the middle of the sea of Galilee to get to Jesus. He boldly claims he will never betray Jesus. He denounces Jesus' prophecy of his crucifixion in Jerusalem. Peter frequently acts without thinking or assumes he understands a situation when he does not.

Yet, Peter is not impulsive. What he lacks is the virtue of docility. Docility comes from the word "docere" which means "to teach." Derived from "docere" are the words "doctrine," "doctor" and "doctorate." Docility is the virtue of obedience and openness to learning. Another word for docility is "teachability." Before Peter can fulfill Jesus' plan of becoming the leader of the Church on earth, he must first learn the virtue of docility.

Docility is the mean between excessive pride and passive submission. It is a virtue that is balanced between pride and laziness. The lazy person is not interested in learning or is not disciplined to put forth the effort necessary to learn in meaningful fashion. The prideful person possesses contempt for things he does not know and assumes his knowledge and perception to be sufficient and true.

Peter has a little of both. He is not willing to sit still and listen until the lesson is finished. In our gospel today, before the dazzling vision of Moses and Elijah departs, Peter begins speaking before God is done talking. God the Father interrupts Peter's exhortation to plant three tents in honor of the event:

"While he (Peter) was still speaking, a cloud came and cast a shadow over them, and they became frightened when they entered the cloud. Then from the cloud came a voice that said, "This is my chosen Son; listen to him." Luke 9 :34-35

We speak about the Lenten practices of prayer, fasting and almsgiving. We should ask God for the virtue of docility. During Holy Week we will follow Jesus into Jerusalem, into the Upper Room, over to the Garden at Gethsemane, The Way of the Cross, and into the Empty Tomb. Let us pray we may have the docility to be led by the will of God and not our own.

My Dominican meetings in California are going well. We finished our quarterly provincial council meeting Friday. Monday, the superiors of our seventeen communities in the Western Dominican Province will gather in Santa Cruz for our annual meeting. I fly back to Anchorage on Friday. Please keep the Dominicans in your prayers!
